They sold for J. W. Brown of North Dakota a farm of 44 acres at $50.00 per acre, to Walter Fain.

The first farm is 2 1/2 miles from Lancaster on the Richmond pike and the latter on Sugar Creek.

Hopper of Latonia, but many years a resident of this city, announces the engagement of his daughter, Camille Lafayette Hopper, of Louisville, to Harry Drake Gibbs, of the Philippine Islands. Appreciation.

We the executive committee of the Lancaster and Garrard County Development Association, desire to express our appreciation and thanks to Mr. R. E. Hughes, of Louisville, Ky., for his assistance in organizing and placing on foot the above Association.

We believe that if this Association is pushed to the success it deserves, it will be a factor in bringing about great aid to the City and County both in a financial and business way and for any success that may develop, the Association feels that Mr. Hughes should have the lion's share of credit.

School Notes.

The eighth grade library has been increased by twenty eight volumes during the past week. Several books for the other grades have been received. We still need some two hundred volumes, and we hope our friends will continue their donations. The teachers met last Saturday morning for their semi-monthly study of school problems. The discussions proved of interest.

The pupils of the sixth and seventh grades gave a very interesting program on Friday afternoon. Several visiting friends made the occasion brighter by their presence. Such visits are appreciated by both pupils and teachers.

The pupils of 4th grade gave the following program Friday afternoon: Recitation: "Her Letter," Nancy Lee Hagan; Fairy Sisters, Georgia Moss; Song by all the pupils; Recitation: "The First Snow Fall," Charlie Elmore; Little Jonnie's Letter, Willie Cox.

Duets: "You Mustn't Pick Pines from My Plum Tree," Charlie Elmore and Woodruff Williams.

The pupils of the second and third grades visited the historic Jackson Spring and Cave last Friday. They also went to the water works. A number of reports of the trip, written by the little people, were read on Monday following.

Katie Joshlin has returned to school after an illness of three weeks. Misses Mason, Fleetwood, Sanford and Brashear were guests of Miss Salie Elkin on Saturday.

Articles of incorporation were filed at Frankfort by the Hurley Tobacco and Insurance Company, the successor of the Hurley Tobacco Society. The company is capitalized at $2,000,000 and is to continue 100 years. The articles of incorporation say that the object of the company is to insure and finance the white Hurley crop of Kentucky, West Virginia, Ohio and Indiana.

DEVELOPMENT

Association For Lancaster and Garrard.

Movement to Advance Interests of Town and County Given Splendid Start.

The Lancaster and Garrard County Development Association was formed here Tuesday morning, amid an enthusiasm that presages big results.

Permanent organization was effected at a meeting of the following committee of citizens appointed at a banquet given by Haselden Bros. on last Saturday night: John M. Farra, H. T. Logan, G. B. Swinebroad, R. H. Batson, R. H. Batson, J. R. Haselden, F. S. Hughes, J. W. Elmore, and F. M. Tindler.

At the banquet speeches were made by several prominent citizens, all voicing a common sentiment—that Lancaster and Garrard County need a live development association to advance the interests of town and county before the rest of the world.

The committee named was given full authority and at the meeting Tuesday took hold of the duties with an eagerness that inspired confidence in the undertaking.

The following officers were unanimously chosen:

President—John M. Farra.
Vice Presidents—W. G. Kemper, of Paint Lick; Hogan Ballard, of Bryantville; Cecil Broadus, of Buckeye; R. H. Batson and J. R. Haselden.
Secretary—F. S. Hughes.
Treasurer—J. W. Elmore.
Chairmen of Standing Committees.
City Development—H. T. Logan.
County Development—G. B. Swinebroad.

Transportation—R. H. Tomlinson.
Membership—J. F. Robinson.
Publicity—M. D. Hughes.
Education—S. D. Cochran.
Good Roads—J. E. Stormes.
Live Stock Breeding—R. L. Elkin.
Entertainment—J. J. Walker, Jr.

Infirmary—Dr. J. M. Acton.
Not only Lancaster but the entire county is to be canvassed at once for membership. The board of directors, made up of the officers and committee chairmen, will hold semi-monthly meetings—the first regular meeting being called for Nov. 16, by which time it is expected two hundred members will be enrolled.

Among the first active steps to be taken by the Association will be those towards securing better transportation facilities for Lancaster; an infirmary and government building. The Association is in favor of the Amendment to the State Constitution generally known as the Good Roads Amendment, to be voted on next Tuesday, as is shown by the creation of a Good Roads Committee.

The Association is to issue at once attractive literature advertising what Lancaster and Garrard County have and what they most need.

Every cent derived from membership fees and dues will go into a fund to advance the Association's work. No one connected with the organization will receive a salary.

Supper to Citizens.

The luncheons given by Haselden Brothers at the Malleable Steel Range Exhibit during last week, culminated in an oyster supper Saturday night. A general invitation was issued to the citizens in the community, and fully one hundred and sixty-eight responded. Haselden Brothers express a regret that every citizen of the county could not be with them. These hustling merchants, who are always for the advancement of our town and county, invited these men to discuss the business interests of our community.

John M. Farra who presided as toast master, indeed did it in a way to insure a pleasant evening to everyone. When supper was announced the guests fled into the spacious store room where tables were found decorated in a most pleasing way and many ladies of the town were there to assist the wives of the proprietors in waiting on the guests.

After being lead in prayer by Eld. F. M. Tindler, the supper was served in three courses—oyster soup, ice cream, and coffee.

The toast master then called on D. W. Bridges, who responded with impressive remarks on "Educational Interests." G. B. Swinebroad then spoke on the prospects of a realty company, and organizing a commercial club, after which R. H. Batson spoke entertainingly on "Civic Improvements" and was followed by R. H. Tomlinson who spoke on "Lancaster—Its Future." A committee was appointed to meet at Garrard Bank & Trust Co., on Tuesday morning, a report of which appears in this issue.

After three cheers were given to the Haselden Brothers, "Old Kentucky Home" was sung and the crowd went to their respective homes feeling that a corner stone had been laid for an advancement association.

The Deacon is coming again.

Read about Lancaster and Garrard county in this issue, on 4th page.

Dr. W. N. Craig, Oculist, will be at the Kenyan Hotel Tuesday, Nov. 2. Those who need glasses should not delay having their eyes tested.

FIVE DOLLARS IN GOLD.

The Lancaster and Garrard County Development Association, which was formed here this week, wants a slogan or battle cry which will help it win contests in the great commercial war now in progress between different communities for supremacy, and will give Five Dollars in Gold for the best suggestion sent to the President of the Association, John M. Farra, Lancaster on or before November 16th.

The slogan should not be more than eight or ten words and should be especially expressive of Lancaster and Garrard County's interest or what both must stand for. This slogan is to be used in red ink on every piece of literature issued by the association and it is hoped that all merchants, bankers, professional men and citizens generally who have printed stationery will use the slogan on all of their envelopes and letter heads. The association has appointed R. E. Hughes, President Kentucky Electric Co., Louisville; Brinton B. Davis, President Commercial Club, Louisville; and A. B. Lipscomb, Secretary Commercial Club, Louisville as a committee to award the Five Dollars for the above named prize.

For convenience, the following blank may be used. Fill it out and mail it to John M. Farra, Lancaster.

I respectfully suggest the following as an appropriate slogan for the Lancaster and Garrard County Development Association:

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

To the Republican party of Garrard county: I am the Republican nominee for County Attorney and will appreciate your support. B. D. Herndon.

We are authorized to announce James R. Hays as a candidate for Magistrate in the district number three, subject to the action of no political party.

Democratic Ticket.

Vote as indicated above and thereby maintain and perpetuate the principles which favor the people, and which were born of eternal justice and immutable right—those doctrines and principles which constitute the substratum of good government and insure the greatest good in the greatest number. Why discard the tried horse for one untried, that might wreck the people by indiscreet official acts? Our county administration is altogether acceptable, in maintaining public improvements, for the general welfare, at the lowest expenditure of funds and in prosecuting criminals in a manner that deters others from crime and insures peace and happiness in every condition of life. The district candidates are known to be honest, capable and worthy of the support of all liberty-loving and law-abiding people. Vote the whole ticket and don't put yourself in a position to be criticised, for failing to fulfill your obligation, and being forced to explain your conduct.

It is enough to make a demon blush or a man, in the throes and agonies of death, smile to see republicans posing as moralists and advocates of all that seems good for mankind, when they threaten their defeat in an election. Indications point towards the truth of the statement, so often uttered, that they ignored the county unit bill, in the last legislative session, and combined with the whisky element to elect a Republican U. S. Senator. They have even disgusted many leaders in their own party by the passage of the new tariff bill, which imposes a burden on the masses, and their conduct is no better than that of other men. So they should not thank God as the Pharisee did.

Democrats, fall in line, buckle on the armor of their honored principles of your party, take inspiration from its achievements, for the good of mankind, prove that our faith and light is borrowed from the fountain of perpetual illumination and will shine with undiminished luster, while that of the enemy is fed only by perishable and precarious supplies and should be forever extinguished.

Woman's right of suffrage is looming up and attempts will likely be made to enforce it all over the country. This would be destructive to good society, for woman is the basis of all that is pure and good in the social world, and the corruption in politics would surely degrade her to some extent. Beside this, if you elect her with authority, she will carry her point, and we had as well have a king and be done with it. This is confidential.

We appeal to all democrats to go to the polls and vote next Tuesday. It is your duty. Remember that indifference and lethargy have caused many defeats. Do not think your vote is not needed. A sufficient number might think this to insure defeat, and then the blame should be laid at your door. Victory is certain if the vote comes out. The opposition is alert, active, watchful, and will vote to a man. A hint to the wise should be sufficient.

Judge Sanfley is going around the field looking for gaps in his fences, but he and his friends are gratified to know that the rails are all up, and that his majority will easily equal those in the county races, throughout the district. This is as it should be, and is due to a knowledge of his able honesty, fearlessness and brilliant career as Judge in this district, and of U. S. Courts.

It looks like the democrats will win in Louisville, as they are running a head. This will place Kentucky back where she belongs—in the Democratic ranks, never to drop out again by accident. The people are tired of following mouse tracks and carrying an elephant.

Follow the example of Uncle Steve Isom, of the North end. He is 85 years of age, sound in body and mind, never smokes or chews tobacco, or drinks whisky, and always votes under the rooster. He attributes his health and his longevity mainly to his way of voting, which keeps his conscience clear.

Our county administration is one of the cleanest in the State, and, as most of the officers are nominees on the Democratic ticket, it behooves all advocates of good government to see to the election of that ticket.

Put the stencil on the ink pad, and then place it in the circle under the rooster and you will have done your duty to yourself, your fellow-man and your country, by insuring a continuation of good government.

We mean what we say when we repeat the expression, that the Democratic ticket will win, by a handsome majority, if they get a fair count.

Vote for the entire democratic ticket and maintain party organization.

Vote under the rooster Tuesday. Take no risks.

Communicated

It is rumored that Mr. John Marsee, the republican nominee for representative, has told the colored people that the democrats never did anything for them but give them a separate coach to ride in. This is a dirty hour to spring an issue which has been set long ago to the satisfaction of both races, neither caring to interfere with the law which separates them. Wouldn't you judge from this that he would vote to repeal the law?

It is also stated on good authority that he has preached to the colored people of Garrard county opposition to separate schools, by stating that the democratic party had been so unjust to them as to legislate in favor of separate schools.

Now how would you like to combine the two races in the school room by passing a bill to that effect, after both races are now so divided with school conditions? The statements made by Mr. Marsee indicate clearly that he is in favor of mixed schools, or he would not attempt to prejudice the colored voter against the present school system.

It is further reported that Mr. Marsee said that he never cast a democratic vote. He is sixty-four years old and if he is such a hardened sinner, we fail to see how any democrat can support him.

WALLER HUDSON'S LETTER

The sight of five sheep, none of which were within range, constituted the success of the first day's hunting. Juan had a thrill when he crawled under a rock and was prevented from sitting on a rattlesnake by its delight in the note of warning. The night was uncomfortably hot and mosquitoes, brought up by a little shower, sang songs of misery in my ears the whole night long.

Then came the eventful day of the trip. By eight-thirty Juan and I had spied a sheep about a mile away, standing on the brink of a precipice near the summit of the next highest peak in the entire range. With the aid of the field glasses we could easily distinguish the size of his horns. They were immense. We sat down among some rocks and deliberated, discussing what should be done that I might get within range. As we waited, looking through the glasses, another sheep walked up out of a canyon and stood watching us about three hundred yards off. I threw a cartridge into the barrel and waited his next move. Evidently he was unable to decide what we were, for we were crouched among the rocks perfectly still. Undoubtedly he was curious, for he advanced a few steps, stopped and scrutinized us thoroughly but without satisfying his doubts. This performance he repeated several times until he was within one hundred yards of me. It was a shame to take the money but I took it.

His horns were of fair size only, so we planned our campaign for the other one, which still remained where we had first seen him. First we climbed to a peak opposite him. Peeping over the edge of a rock we saw him lying down while a ewe was keeping lookout for him. Juan asked me to try a shot but the distance was nearly half a mile, and I knew what the chance would be. I decided to make a circuit of about three miles to the opposite side of the peak where the sheep was resting, climb to the top, and get a shot from above. This I could do and be out of sight all the time excepting a few minutes as I crossed a canyon. I left Juan with the field glasses where he was to watch the sheep, after arranging some signals to be made with his hat, whereby he could inform me as to the speed and direction the sheep took, if he decided to be so unkind as to move.

The journey to the top of that peak was no small undertaking. The mountains of that particular region are of volcanic origin and their sides are studded with little caves in which Gila monsters live. There is no brush, all is barren. The sun's rays beat down from above and their reflection from the glazed surface of the lava struck me in the face from below. Literally I was between two fires. The ascent of the peak was hazardous under any circumstances. The presence of fifteen and life made it more so. Near the top the cliff was perpendicular. I stood on a ledge half as wide as the sole of my shoe, and grasped similar ones above, unbearably hot to my fingers. In places they were loose and gave way. Did the one on which I stood give way I would have nothing left to do but say Adios. I was in the act of removing my shoes, but desisted, thinking my feet would blister. From my path I picked loose stones and hid them aside to prevent any chance of their falling and frightening the sheep. At last the top, which was flat about the size of a room was gained. From the canteen I took a drink of water, nearly boiling. With the big red bandana I mopped the perspiration from my face, neck, and breast. I waited several minutes to get my breath, then started crawling on all fours toward the farther edge. As I crawled those few yards my mind was filled with doubt. Had I done all this for nothing, or would the sheep yet be there?

Both were there, directly below me about one hundred and fifty yards. The ewe was looking up toward me but the ram was still lying down. I placed the bandana on the edge of a rock and rested my gun upon it. When I fired, my rifle was in a vertical position. At the first shot the ram jumped up. I shot twice more and he fell. The ewe I let go off. When I had climbed down I found that two shots went just back of the heart and one directly through it.

The ram was a monster and the head surpassed my expectations. It was then eleven-thirty, three hours since I first saw it. The enjoyment of such sport as that is everlasting.

Returning to camp, Mr. Campbell and I saddled a couple of mules and with two others started out to bring in the sheep. By a wonderful piece of engineering Mr. Campbell succeeded in getting one mule near the body of the sheep, which weighed about two hundred and fifty pounds, upon the mule, the head lying on a rock nearly, fell off and rolled under the mule's feet. The mule immediately began to buck, nearly throwing Mr. Campbell over the edge of the precipice. The head was kicked over and went down bumping from one rock to another. My heart sank, for I expected to find it shattered. To my surprise it was unharmed, although it had gone down more than one hundred yards.

It alone weighed about sixty pounds so I had some difficulty in bringing it back. By the time we had reached the other sheep and tied it on, it was dark and we were six or seven miles from camp by horse. Mr. Campbell took the lead and I followed with the two pack mules between us. We went up and down steep mountains among rocks, along the edges of precipices, and across canyons. Presumably the mules were able to see but I couldn't. I trusted Mr. Campbell for the direction and God for the rest. I made no attempt to guide the mule but sat quietly dozing, not worrying about what might happen till it came. Suddenly my mule halted and I heard Mr. Campbell say in no uncertain tone, "We're lost." It was then ten o'clock and we had gone up the wrong canyon, not being able to detect our mistake in the dark. Rattlesnakes were too numerous to camp among the rocks. My mule had just kicked up two, which I of course couldn't see but hear plainly enough. However we could see the North Star and Mr. Campbell said he would find camp. I continued my dozing, since I could do nothing better. Presently we lost one of the mules. Mr. Campbell left me with the other and attempted to find the lost one. Then the one I was using an effort to take care of, made a move and was out of sight only a few feet away, but I couldn't tell where. After some skirmishing we heard them and got them in line again. A few minutes later Mr. Campbell took a drink of water from the canteen, and came to another sudden halt. Something in the water had poisoned him and he was sick he could hardly sit on his horse. However he continued. As my mule rubbed against some sort of a bush a reptile of some description jumped on my knee and stuck there. I took out my knife and was in the act of pushing the blade under it to jerk it off when it jumped off of its own accord. A little before two o'clock the next morning we found camp.

We built a fire, cooked something to eat, and killed some coffee, which brought Mr. Campbell around alright. Neither of us had had anything to eat since breakfast, which was before daylight. That day of twenty-three hours, from three o'clock in the morning till two the next, in which took place the events just related, has a firm hold in my memory.

After a few hours of sleep the sun awakened us. The day was taken up with attending to the heads, skins, and meat, which we jerked. Later the mushroomed bull with which I shot the big sheep was found in a piece of jerky. I have it now with the rattles of a snake on a watch fob of buckskin from one of the deer I shot. We hunted antelope for a couple of days but without success.

The last night before leaving the desert, supper was late something after dark. A candle was nearby. I had sat down on the ground with my back against a rock and my feet stretched out on the ground. Just as I was in the act of taking a drink of coffee I saw a rattlesnake crawl under my leg. I jumped on him with both feet and with the bonobals in my shoes succeeded in killing him before he could bite.

Upon our return to the ranch a few hundred cattle were rounded up in the corral and branded. Mr. Campbell's brand is a crow and underbit on the left ear, a swallow fork on the right, and G. C. on the ribs. The roping, which was done by the Mexican cowboys, was rather artistic.

From the ranch I came with Mr. Campbell by wagon to Eusemado, where I took the boat for San Diego, on the twenty-eighth of August.

Schwartz and I had spent many an idle hour licking our chops and planning all sorts of good things to eat for our first meal upon returning to San Diego. The boat on which I came was small, and consequently was tossed about mercilessly, which fact caused my order for supper to be abbreviated to toast and coffee.

On the stock of my rifle I now have six notches for coyotes, six for deer, and two crosses for sheep.

During the whole summer we saw seven white men, but not one white woman. For thirty days, except from each other we didn't hear a word of English. When I returned to San Diego I had a mustache and was tanned pretty dark. On the streets I passed one friend after another who did not recognize me.

The feet, blisters, and heads were brought across the line without any trouble whatever. The deer skins were tanned on the ranch. One sheep skin is being made into a rug. A local taxidermist is mounting the heads. That the head of the big sheep is magnificent you will see when you receive it Christmas.

Yours affectionately, Waller.

"$2,000.00"

Mr. Luther Guthrie, of Beaufort, N. C. spent money freely in employing doctors to cure his wife from continual headache. He writes:

"One bottle of Cardui did my wife more good than anything she has taken for ten years past. She had suffered with headache for ten years and I had spent $300.00 for doctors' bills for her, but nothing did her any good."

She has taken two bottles of Cardui and it has done her two thousand dollars ($2,000) worth of good. Just as long as it is made, I shall have Cardui in my home."

For all forms of female pain, like headache, side ache, pain in limbs, dizzy feelings, dragging down sensations, etc.—Cardui has been found to be an effective remedy. Don't wait till you are "all run down." Try Cardui at once. Sold everywhere.

Majestic Demonstration

November 1st to 6th. Walking Gake Day Thursday, NOV. 4th.

FREE

THE GREAT AND GRAND MAJESTIC RANGE
THE RANGE WITH A REPUTATION
MADE IN ALL SIZES AND STYLES.

MAJESTIC RANGES use less fuel; heat more water; and heat it hotter; costs practically nothing for repairs; last three times as long; bake better; easier to keep clean and give better satisfaction than any other range on the market. If you knew positively that the above statements were true, wouldn't you buy a Majestic once? Come in during Demonstration Week and we will prove it to you.

W. R. Cook has used one for 27 years and Mrs. Jake Joseph one for 15 years. Mrs. U. D. Simpson says it uses only half the fuel for cooking that other stoves do. What's the use in buying a fallacy when you can buy a Majestic FACT.

Souvenir Set of Majestic Ware
FREE, worth $7.50.

If you will call at our store during our Majestic Demonstration Week and allow us to show you the many advantages and superior qualities of the Great and Grand Majestic Range, and will purchase one at the regular price, we will give you FREE the beautiful and useful Souvenir Set of Ware illustrated in this advertisement. This ware is made to match the quality of the Majestic Ranges, and we know all ladies will see the beauty and utility of this Set, especially the first three pieces, which are entirely new and cannot be had alone by purchase, except at a very high price. The prices of Majestic Ranges are the same, but we give the set FREE with each Majestic Range bought during demonstration week only.

Reasons Why The Great Majestic You Should Buy.

- 1st. It has the reputation of being the best range money can buy.
- 2nd. It not only has the reputation, but is the best range made, and we will prove this to you if you will let us.
- 3rd. It is constructed of Malleable iron (material you can't beat) and of Charcoal Iron (material that resists rust 300 per cent. greater than steel,) is riveted together air-tight. No heat escapes or cold air enters range, thus uses very little fuel to do perfect work.
- 4th. The reservoir alone is worth the price of the range over any other reservoir made. It boils 15 gallons of water; is heated like a tea kettle, with pocket against left hand lining, and is movable, and sets on a frame, hence cannot wear out. When water gets too hot it can be moved away from fire.

What Dr. Nett stated: I can, only in a few cases, grow hair on a bald head, but I can always save what you have, and I never failed to restore gray hair to the vigor and color of youth.

The most beautiful face plain indeed if not crowned with a head of luxuriant hair. One of the greatest charms of a beautiful woman is her hair, no woman can be said to be a specimen of feminine beauty who has short, thin, straggly hair. When we speak of a beauty, we call to mind the image of some fascinating creature with long, wavy, luxuriant tresses. Falling hair as well as gray hair ring the death knell of feminine charm, beauty and vigor.

Q—Hair Restorer will make gray-haired people look youthful, and after it has done its work no barber, physician or specialist can perceive that it is the work of art or medication. No woman need be without a luxuriant head of hair if she can obtain Q—Hair Restorer. Falling hair it corrects at once. It gives the strength, length, vigor and thickness of the hair.

Any druggist will assert, that if six bottles of Q—Hair Restorer does not change gray hairs to a youthful color, and that, if both the Restorer and Tonic do not arrest falling hair, cure dandruff, etc., that your money will be refunded if you have used up to the sixth bottle. You know your druggist—ask him.

R. E. McRoberts recommends and sells these preparations.

NERVOUS PROSTRATION

Indigestion Causes It—Mi-o-na Will Cure It.

If you have indigestion, you don't get all the nutriment out of your food that you should.

Your worn out stomach passes the food on without extracting enough nutriment substance to supply the blood and nerve.

And if the nerves are not supplied with nutriment, they begin to rebel. They kick up a great disturbance. They make you irritable and cranky. You worry about trifles, and you can't sleep soundly at night you have bad dreams, and you get up tired in the morning.

Try Mi-o-na tablets, the money back cure. Mi-o-na will cure your nervousness by driving out the cause. Mi-o-na will give you relief in five hours. It will cure acute cases in a few days, and chronic cases in a few weeks.

Healing of gas, heartburn, sour taste of food, waterbrash, foul breath and other dyspeptic symptoms vanish before the mild power of Mi-o-na.

Try Mi-o-na R. E. McRoberts sells it and will refund your money if it doesn't cure, and only 50 cents a large box.

How would you like an income of $50.00, $100.00 or $200.00 per month, payable monthly? You can have it by putting in a herd of dairy cows, and patronizing the Creamery. 8 to 10 good cows will bring you $50.00 and upward per month; 16 to 20 good cows will bring you $100.00 and upward per month; 35 to 40 good cows will bring you $200.00 and upward per month.

but do you know of any way of making money without work. If you are looking for a "Snap" don't waste your time fooling with cows.

If you really want to improve your standing in the world, and are willing to study and learn and work, there is no industry that will respond more quickly to your efforts than dairying. The dairying interests are to Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, New York and Ohio as tobacco and hemp are to Kentucky. It is a well known fact that any and all of the above named states are more prosperous than Kentucky; due, no doubt to the fact that their people are quicker in responding to new conditions, ideas, and new inventions than are ours.

If you are to succeed as a dairyman, you must milk good cows, house them properly and feed them a balanced ration; and then they will return you a golden harvest.

Come to the creamery and let me explain to you in detail. It
